

Cardinals Trade Schoendienst in 8-Player Deal

Get Alvin Dark, Lockman, Liddle, Katt from Giants

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals today announced an eight-player deal with the New York Giants involving two of the top infielders of the National League—Red Schoendienst and Al Dark.

In addition to Schoendienst, the Cards sent rookie outfielder Jackie Brandt, catcher Bill Sarni and pitcher Dick Littlefield to the Giants for Dark, first baseman-outfielder Whitey Lockman, catcher Ray Katt and pitcher Don Liddle.

There was no cash involved in the transaction.

General Manager Frank Lane said he expected the deal would put the Cards in the thick of the pennant fight.

He visualized the following changes in the Cards' lineup as an immediate result of the deal—Lockman on first, Don Blasingame at second and Dark at short.

Schoendienst, currently hitting .311, has been sidelined for the past couple of weeks with a pulled shoulder muscle. The slick-fielding second baseman, noted for his agile performance on double plays, had made only one error this season.

The move will enable Lane and field manager Fred Hutchinson to return the hard-hitting Wally Moon to the outfield which will now probably consist of Stan Musial in right, Moon in center and Rip Repulski in left.

Moon was having heavy going at first base, particularly on low throws from the other infielders. Blasingame with Schoendienst absent from the lineup, was having his troubles at short, too.

He and third baseman Ken Boyer suffered from the absence of a steady and veteran partner in the infield. This is the part that Dark, field captain of the Giants, is obviously expected to play.

Lane, already criticized for dealing off last season's rookie-of-the-year, Bill Virdon, will probably face a new storm of reproaches for disposing of Schoendienst, one of the most popular of the Red-birds.

Students, Parents Meet with U. I. Representatives

Approximately 65 persons — students who plan to enter the University of Illinois and their parents — last night attended a meeting at the Harrisburg Elks lodge home at which three U. of I. representatives talked about the university.

The meeting was sponsored by the University of Illinois Dads Association and hosts and hostesses were fathers and mothers of students now attending the school.

Besides those attending from Harrisburg and the immediate surrounding area, there were persons present from as far away as Cave-in-Rock, West Frankfort and Sesser.

Mrs. Alice W. Cotter, head resident in one of the women's residence halls on the campus, and Mrs. Beverly J. Brulke, housing visitor, talked about student housing at Champaign-Urbana, and Gerald W. Peck, assistant dean of students, talked generally about entering school. He also showed slides of campus and residence scenes.

After their remarks there was an informal discussion period. A get-acquainted coffee hour followed.

Coal Production Highest for May Since '51; 1 Killed

SPRINGFIELD (AP) — Illinois coal production for May hit the highest mark for that month since 1951, the State Mines and Minerals Department reported today.

The production of 3,687,912 tons was 486,677 tons more than was produced in May, 1955, and 63,870 tons more than was hoisted in April, 1956.

Mine accidents killed 1 man and injured 58 during the month. A roof fall in a Williamson County mine caused the fatality.

The May tonnage was reported by 116 mines in 33 counties. The mines employed 11,405 workers, compared with 11,676 working in April.

Christian County was the top producer for the month with 522,007 tons, followed by Williamson County with 470,012 tons, Franklin with 379,629 tons and Fulton with 377,283 tons.

Coal Industry Urged to Seek Lower Freight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The electric utility and coal industries were urged today to work for reduced coal transportation costs, especially rail freight rates.

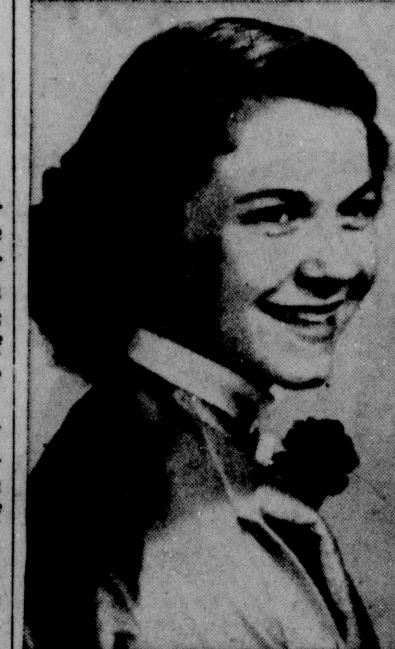

John W. Evers, president of Commonwealth Edison Co., Chicago, said "because of higher rail costs, we barge as much of our coal as possible."

Evers, in a prepared address for the 39th anniversary convention of the National Coal Assn., said the price paid for coal at the mine is generally satisfactory. But, he said, "the cost of transportation leaves much to be desired."

Several experts have predicted a bright outlook for coal during the two-day meeting scheduled to end today.

Evers said "it appears that the coal industry is over the hump." He said evidence is mounting that coal can increase its share of the electric energy market at the expense of oil, gas and hydropower."

The industry announced Wednesday that it has joined forces with railroads and the United Mine Workers to stimulate coal in one field—exports. A new 50-million-dollar corporation made up of the three groups will buy its own ships to promote the coal export business.

JANET HALL, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Hall, Harrisburg, has been selected to represent section three of the Illinois Future Homemakers organization at the National convention of Future Homemakers of America. The meeting is scheduled at the Conrad Hilton hotel Chicago, July 2-6. Janet is a sophomore at the Harrisburg Township high school and is president of her local chapter.

Mother Vows to Forget Birth of Son By Rapist; Baby Given for Adoption

DENVER (AP) — A mother vowed today to forget the "living nightmare" of the birth of her son, fathered by a rapist.

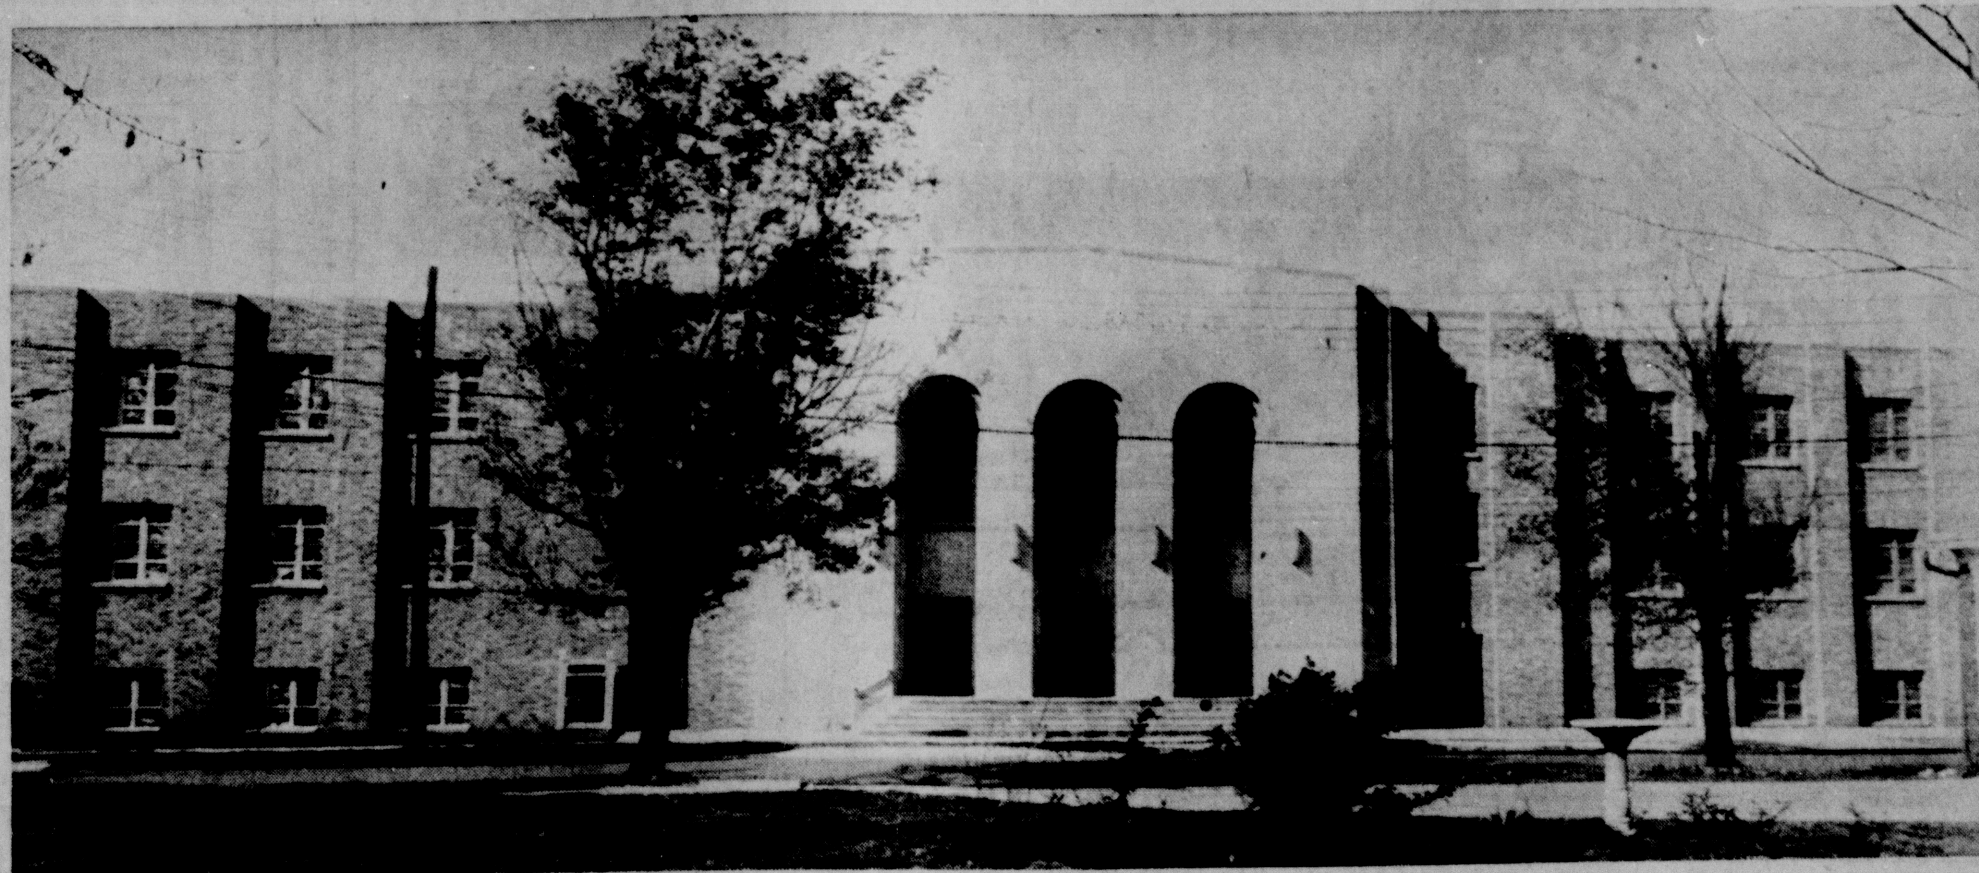

Mrs. Joe Anson, 27, was raped by a young airman in her apartment last Sept. 16. Her baby which was born Tuesday was immediately given to adoption authorities.

Neither she nor her unemployed, sick husband saw the infant.

"This nine months has been a living nightmare for both myself and my husband," Mrs. Anson said. "I've felt the baby stirring in my body and then I'm reminded of that terrible night."

She said she never could have loved the rapist's child and only wants to forget. She said they may move from Denver to help bury the memory of the last nine months.

50th Anniversary and Dedication Services Sunday at McKinley Baptist

Cornerstone Will Be Laid In Afternoon

The McKinley Avenue Baptist church will combine its 50th anniversary service and the dedication of the third wing of the large church structure—the education building—in services to be held Sunday.

The 50th anniversary service will be observed at the morning worship service with the Rev. L. H. Moore, state secretary of evangelism, preaching the anniversary sermon.

At 2 p. m. the dedicatory program will begin, with Rev. Moore delivering the dedicatory address. These two services will be held in the church auditorium and at the end of the 2 p. m. service inside, the gathering will meet outside for the laying of the cornerstone.

Former pastors of the church have been invited to take part in the services.

Organized in 1906

The dedicatory program, after the singing of a hymn, calls for the invocation and scripture reading by former pastors, after which there will be special music by the choir, the offertory, special music, the dedicatory address and a vocal solo, "Bless This House," by the Rev. Charles Raley, a former member of the church. Then will follow the service of dedication with the Rev. J. D. McCarty, pastor of the church, the leader. Then there will be the dedicatory prayer, a hymn and the benediction, followed by the cornerstone laying outside.

The Rev. J. D. McCarty

The McKinley Avenue Baptist church was organized in 1906 at the residence of Thomas A. Cain. Since the organization the church has grown from the original 13 members to an organization of 1,019, which meets in a large, magnificent structure.

The original church building was remodeled and enlarged twice to accommodate the increase in membership and attendance and in 1946 the church voted to construct a new building.

Two Units Dedicated in 1952

The first two units were dedicated June 15, 1952, during the pastorate of the Rev. George B. Leathers. The third unit, the education building, was completed recently.

Pastors who served during the 50 years the church has been organized were: J. K. Trovillion 1906-07; James Johnson 1908-09; Andrew Yates 1910-12; R. A. Morris 1913-14; W. J. Howell 1915-16; J. S. Bunch 1917; L. Tucker 1918-19; E. R. Steagall 1920-24; C. E. Bullar 1926; Arthur Travelstead 1927; L. Tucker 1928; Robert Rhineheart 1929; A. L. Cox 1930-31; J. R. Wagner 1932-34; J. A. Musgrave 1935-43; W. W. Childers 1944-45; A. L. Cox 1946; Charley Miller 1947; George B. Leathers 1948-1953; and J. D. McCarty since 1954.

Capture Blonde Wife of Lone Bank Robber

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A gunman's shapely blonde wife today defied police efforts to learn where her husband fled after Indiana's biggest bank robbery in 28 years.

Mrs. Roy Rudolph Drake, 23, was captured Wednesday night in a station wagon loaded with $18,000 in cash.

Police believed the $18,000 was part of the $66,546 stolen by a lone gunman at the suburban Southport Bank last Monday. They have charged Mrs. Drake's husband, a 32-year-old ex-convict and desperado, with the holdup.

The young woman shrugged off the money found in her car when she was arrested for driving through a four-way Indianapolis stop sign.

She said only that her husband gave her the money a few days ago in Marshall, Ill., before leaving for California.

Drake is an ex-convict who once escaped from San Quentin in 1943. Imprisoned at Jackson, Miss., for robbery, he escaped again and was recaptured in a dragnet of state and federal police aided by 1,000 citizens.

He was discharged from the Jackson, Mich., State Penitentiary Aug. 19, 1955, after serving a sentence for armed robbery. A burglary charge against Drake was dismissed in Indianapolis last January.

Submit Low Bid For Highway Storage Building

The Oaks Construction Co. of Metropolis submitted the low bid to construct a state division of highways maintenance storage building in Harrisburg, it was revealed at Springfield today by the State Department of Public Works and Buildings.

It was announced that the Oaks bid was $62,104. However, it was stated, although it appeared that the Oaks company would receive the contract, it will not be awarded until around July 1 because of the studying of details and specifications that must be written into the contract.

The work will be completed by winter, however, it was stated.

For a long time the state has had a site for the building, securing a piece of county property near the intersection of the county farm road and the New York Central railroad from the Saline County Board of Supervisors.

The structure will be one-story concrete block building, with places for storage of equipment and material, and a small office. There was no announcement on whether there will be an employee or employees stationed permanently at the building, but in other instances there have been no employees.

SIU Group on Horseback Trip To Pounds Hollow

ELIZABETHTOWN, Ill. — When a small band of saddle-sore college students reaches Pounds Hollow Recreation Area north of here sometime Friday it will mark the completion of a three-day horseback trip over some of the roughest country in Illinois.

Accompanied by their university president, Delyte W. Morris, and his son, Peter, on the first lap of their trip, the Southern Illinois university group departed Wednesday from Ferns Cliff State park, riding east into Shawnee National Forest.

The schedule called for a Wednesday night stay at Bell Smith Springs in Pope county and a Thursday night camp at Herod, located south of Harrisburg.

An annual affair at the end of the spring quarter, the trip is co-sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega, service fraternity at SIU, and the university's Recreation and Outdoor Education Department. An outdoor enthusiast, SIU President Morris has taken part in the horseback journey in previous years.

Total trip distance this year is 40 miles "as the crow flies" but as one student put it, "Who's riding a crow?"

Will Sentence Ex-High Gov't Officials July 19

Attorneys Say They Will File Motions For New Trial

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A Federal Court jury today convicted two high Truman administration officials, Mathew J. Connelly and T. Lamar Caudle, on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in a tax case.

The jury of eight men and four women, all rural Missourians, reported its findings of guilty after nine hours and five minutes of deliberation.

Attorneys for both Connelly and Caudle announced they would seek a new trial and, if that is refused, would appeal. Federal Judge Ruben M. Hulien set July 19 for the hearing of motions for a new trial and for sentencing.

Neither Connelly, White House aide to former President Truman, nor Caudle, head of the Justice Department's tax division until 1951, made any comment. Both took the verdict calmly.

They were found guilty of a one-count indictment charging them with conspiring with Harry I. Schwimmer, a Kansas City, Mo., attorney, to allow Irving Sachs, a St. Louis shoe broker, to escape criminal trial for income tax evasion. The conspiracy, according to the indictment, continued from 1945 to about 1951.

Sachs Indicted, Fined

Attorneys for both men were caustic in brief statements about the verdict. John Lashly, counsel for Connelly, said "My belief in my client's innocence is unshaken by the jury's verdict. I propose to go as far as necessary to vindicate him."

Charles Margiotti, former Pennsylvania attorney general and counsel for Caudle, declared "I have always believed in the innocence of my client and I still do regardless of the jury's verdict. I hope and pray that the time will come when there will be vindication for himself, his family and his friends."

Schwimmer, indicted with Connelly and Caudle, was removed as a defendant three weeks ago after suffering a heart attack. The special assistant attorney general in charge of the prosecution said Schwimmer will be tried as soon as his health permits.

Sachs was indicted and fined $40,000, but escaped a jail term because of his epileptic condition.

Heavy Smoke Causes Run By Fire Department

What looked like quite a fire at Rogers Auto Supply last night turned out to be smoke from a barrel of smouldering rags.

Heavy smoke was coming out of the business building on South Jackson street when the fire department arrived at 10:10 p. m.

Firemen broke open a door and after searching for the blaze, the barrel of smoking rags was found in a corner.

Fire Chief L. G. Martin said damage was confined to a broken lock on the door used by the firemen.

Behind the Mask

Editorial — BY BRUCE BLOSSAT
 Communism always manages to trip itself up by its own inherent extremism. The newest revelation of Nikita Khrushchev's charges against Stalin make the point strikingly.

Both to present a more reasonable face abroad and to absolve themselves of ruthless crimes at home, the current Kremlin leaders are in the process of painting the late Soviet dictator as the blackest villain who ever walked the Russian earth.

The U. S. State Department discloses the hitherto secret text of a Khrushchev speech to the Communist party congress last February in which he reviled Stalin as a mass murderer, a personal coward, and a glib lout who ignored British warnings of the 1941 Nazi attack.

About his possible cowardice we can have no proof. But the West is quite ready to accept Stalin as a murderer and a purger, and there is considerable evidence that he was either glib or foolishly hopeful in response to warnings of German attack.

Yet the enormous list of Soviet crimes perpetrated over the years cannot be laid only at Stalin's door, even though he was acknowledged supreme in his individual power to kill or let live. Many others must share his guilt, including the present rulers.

They may protest, as they do, that they had no power to resist his cruel depredations against the enemies of his regime. But the fact is that executions for political purposes continue today in the Soviet Union.

First, of course, there was Lavrenti Beria, once powerful secret police chief, who was obliterated in the early states of Khrushchev's rise. Others have been wiped out, and recently reports came through of purges in the Soviet Union's Azerbaijan district. Surely these cannot be blamed on Stalin.

In truth such violence is inseparable from Communist tyranny.

There is only one line, the line the leader takes—today. He who departs from it must either die, or be reviled, or be shoved into the background.

If any are spared, it may be only because the rulers do not feel strong enough at a particular moment to dispose of them more forcefully.

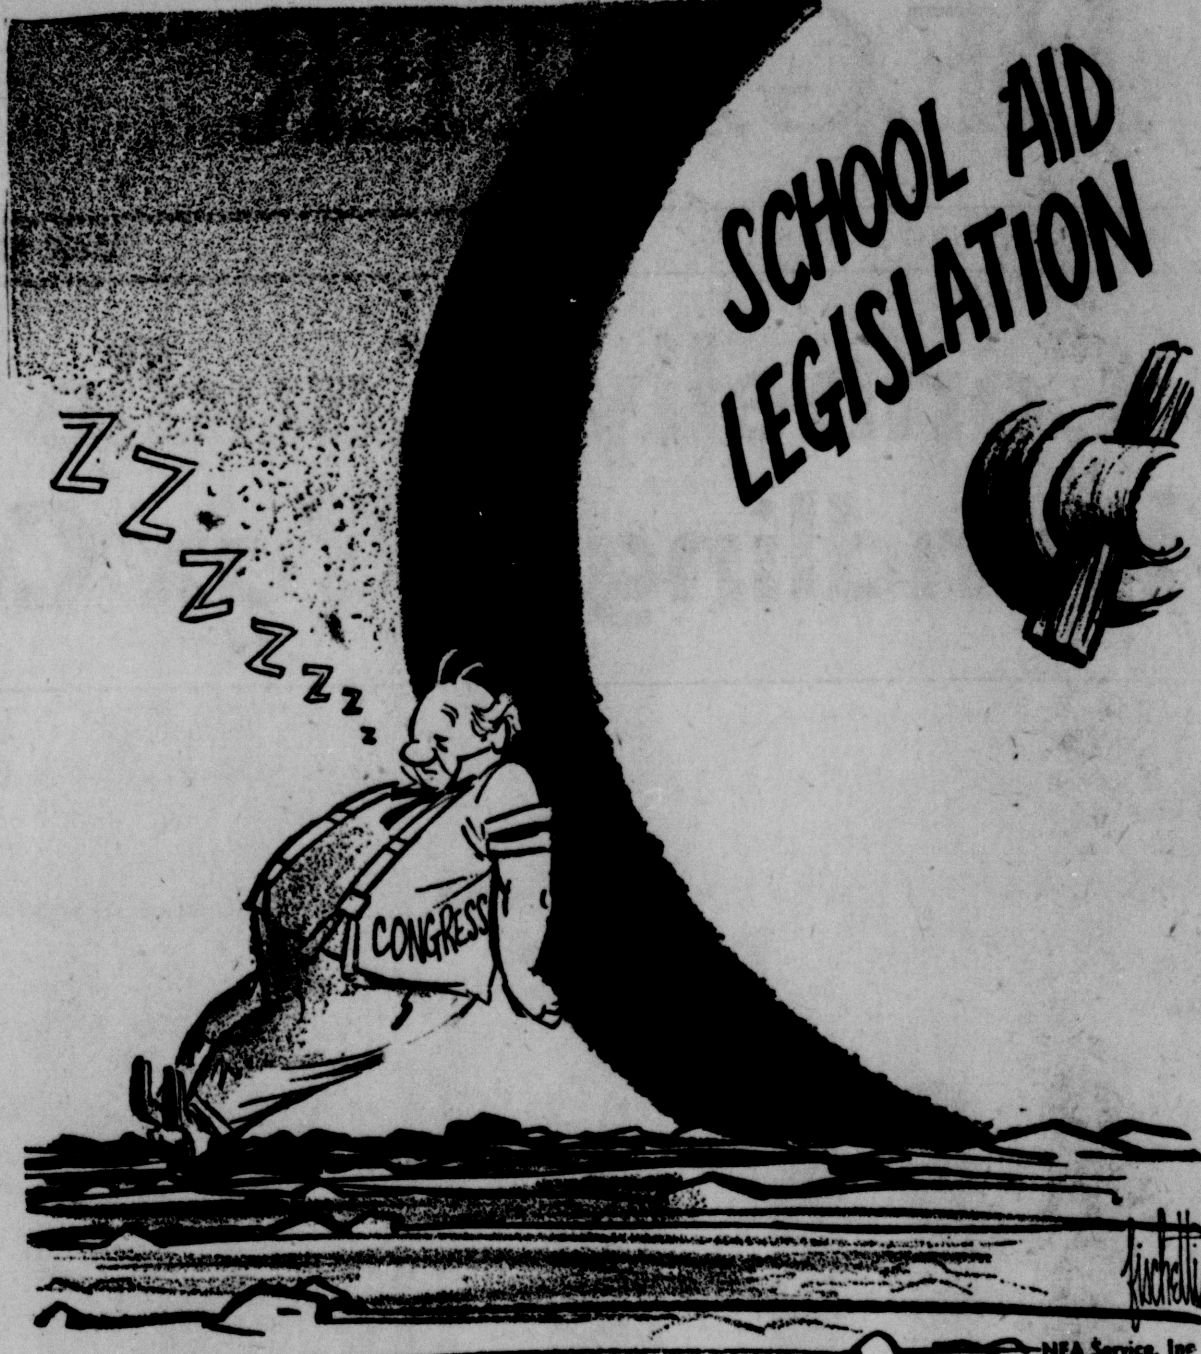

The vehemence with which Khrushchev and others are now denouncing Stalin is the proof that communism never forsakes extremism. The man whose picture once adorned nearly every Russian home must now be torn from memory, ripped from the history books which called him hero, and trampled in the dust.

Whatever may be truthfully said against Stalin as a brutal tyrant, he was the man at the helm as Russia rose from a confused agglomeration of peasant peoples to a powerful, menacing world industrial state.

The ordinary Russian must be asking himself: "If this complete reviling is the fate of yesterday's Soviet hero, what reason to believe that today's leaders will escape a similar blackening at the hands of their own successors?"

Those who revile Stalin sound like Stalin as they do it. And that is the point. Even as they seek to convince Russians and the outside world that they are turning their backs on "Stalinism," Khrushchev and Bulganin embrace it. They must, because in one form or another it is the essence of communism.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND

by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says: Republican Party Quickly Decided Ike Must Run Whether He Wants To Or Not; Eisenhower Was Long Loath To Run Again; Chairman Hall Sharply Maneuvered Him Into Running.

WASHINGTON. — After about 24 hours of hectic indecision immediately after Eisenhower's illness, the Republican high command has decided on a united and vigorous front that he can and must run again.

Hardly was he out from under the anesthetic than the word was passed down to the party faithful. Unofficially there were serious misgivings, but officially this was the party line. The President himself didn't have a word to say about it, nor did his wife and son.

The official line was adopted despite the fact that General Eisenhower himself has been quite frank about his health and his own worry-over it. He is about the only man who has been frank.

Here is the record of what Eisenhower has said, both in public and in private:

1. At a stag dinner in the winter of 1954 he told Chairman L. B. Hall, Attorney General Brownell, and other close advisers that the Republican party should not depend on one man, that they should start to build up new men to take his place. And he named some who should be groomed.

Despite this, both Chairman Hall and Vice President Nixon left the dinner to make emphatic statements that Ike was sure to run.

2. In May, 1955, Eisenhower told Sen. George Bender of Ohio that if he ran again he would be the only President to reach the age of 70 in the White House. And he spoke—all to prophetically—about the erosion on the health of any president. To make sure his views were known publicly he asked Jim Hagerty to see it that this view was expressed to the press.

3. In September, 1955, as Republican state leaders gathered in Denver, their faces grew long as the President told them, in brief, that they could not pin their future on one man, that they must begin developing other candidates. This was just three weeks prior to Eisenhower's tragic heart attack.

4. When he came back from that heart attack, Eisenhower told newsmen at Key West, Fla., that it would be wrong for him to run again unless he had a good chance of serving out a second term, because "it is a very critical thing to change governments in this country at a time when it's unexpected."

5. At his first White House press conference after the heart attack he warned: "It would be idle to pretend that my health can be wholly restored to the excellent state in which the doctors believed it to be in mid-September... my future life must be carefully regulated to avoid excessive fatigue."

That is the unequivocal record of Ike's apparently definite decision at that time not to run again.

POLITICIANS' SHREWD STRATEGY

However, he reckoned without the leaders of his party—some of the shrewdest leaders the party has had in many years.

Chairman Hall, the top mastermind, went to Gettysburg; came out to announce that he was confident Ike would run again. Senator Knowland of California, who called on the President the same day, came out with just the opposite opinion.

What Hall did at Gettysburg was to start a holding operation. He asked the President not to say "No," at least for the time being, on the ground that he needed to keep Congress guessing for the sake of his legislative program. A lame-duck president, Hall argued, has no influence with Congress.

Ike bought Hall's holding-operation strategy. It was the smartest thing Hall has ever done. For the passage of time gave the leaders, the White House staff, everyone around the President time to pressure him, to argue that he was the indispensable man. Simultaneously he got back his old confidence.

IKE WAS RIGHT

The President, however, was right when he talked about the erosion on the health of any man who occupies the presidency, as his latest illness, now demonstrates. He was right also when he warned that "it is a very critical thing to change governments in this country at a time that is unexpected." The drop in the stock market, the meeting of Pan American presidents left high and dry in Panama, the abortive visit of Chancellor Adenauer, the problem of what to do about Premier Nehru—all illustrate how the complicated machinery of American government is upset when an American president is benched.

So the big question is: Will Ike now follow his own advice? Will he carry out his own statement of March 7, which read:

"I have said, unless I felt absolutely up to the performance of the duties of the President, the second that I didn't, I would no longer be there in the job, or I wouldn't be available in the job. I am talking about my general, let's say organic fitness for the job, as I see it, and that means carrying a burden of hard work right on through the year and through the months."

"Now any time that I believe that has failed to the point of inability to perform the job properly, then that goes before the American people instantly."

WASHINGTON PIPELINE

Gen. Lucius Clay, head of Continental Can, and one of Ike's closest friends, phoned the White House immediately after Ike was taken sick and suggested future GOP strategy. Ike's digestive difficulty, General Clay advised, had been considered by the President when he made up his mind to run again. Therefore, the operation won't change his mind... Some White House friends were frank in stating that all Ike needs to do is have his name on the ballot. Whether sick or well, he can win... The President, who knows his own mind and inclinations better than anyone else, was quoted by Merriman Smith of the United Press last winter as remarking to friends as he walked through the White House: "I had to say yes because they told me they didn't have time to build up another candidate."... The item was killed by Lyle Wilson, head of the Washington UP Bureau, though Merriman, dean of White House correspondents, swore the statement was correct. Some weeks later after the "kill" had aroused considerable comment among editors, Hagerty arranged for the President to make a diplomatic explanation that if he had ever said this, he didn't really mean it... When the President was taken sick, he had a cabinet meeting scheduled for that morning. It was not canceled at first, but postponed to 2 p. m. No one at the White House at that time had any idea how sick he really was.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Dale Sisk

Misty tulle and lace overlapping on traditional white satin was chosen for her wedding gown by LaVada Marie Young, attractive daughter of Mrs. Elsa Bowles, 3771 Harrison St., Arlington, Calif., for her nuptials to Wendell Dale Sisk, Riverside, Calif., formerly of this city, Friday evening in Faith Lutheran church in Arlanza, Calif.

The gown was styled with a full sweeping floor length skirt, fitted bodice with softly scalloped neckline and long pointed lace sleeves. She carried a white orchid surrounded by white carnations on her Bible. A finger-tip veil was held in place by a sequin crown.

Connie Rae Sisk, maid of honor and sister of the bridegroom, wore a ballerina length gown of delicate blue lace over satin and carried yellow carnations with blue streamers.

Bridesmaids Annette Young, sister of the bride, and Judith Ann Sisk, sister of the bridegroom, wore identical gowns similar to that of the maid of honor, of pale yellow net over satin and carried bouquets of pink carnations with yellow streamers.

Other members of the bridal party were Cheryl and Bruce Williams, flower girl and ring bearer; Jack Sisk Jr., brother of the bridegroom, best man, and Jim Nichols, Paul Semran, Kenneth Yearney and Larry Bates, ushers.

Pastor A. C. Stahnke of the Faith Lutheran church officiated at the double ring service and members of the church choir sang "O Perfect Love." Mrs. Stahnke presided at the organ for the wedding march. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Arthur Ray Young.

For her daughter's marriage, Mrs. Bowles selected a light blue suit with white accessories and wore a white gardenia and carnation corsage. Mrs. Jack Sisk, mother of the groom, wore a dark blue suit with white accessories and identical corsage.

A reception was held in the parish hall immediately following the impressive ceremony. Dorothy Willis and Janice Jasper served the tiered wedding cake to the 200 guests present. Judy Jasper had charge of the punch bowl and June Bowles circulated the guest book.

The bride wore a pink linen suit trimmed in navy blue with white accessories for her going away costume. The couple are at home to their many friends at 3858 13th St., Riverside, Calif.

Sisk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sisk Sr., 8198 Janis St., Riverside, graduated from Harrisburg Township high school in 1950 and is now employed at the Mission Inn. He was employed by The Daily Register before moving to California. Mrs. Sisk will graduate this month from Poly High at Arlington, Calif.

Air Force Warns Construction Of Bases Lagging

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force has warned Congress that air base construction is "lagging behind" the buildup of U. S. air power because of a shortage of money.

Maj. Gen. Lee B. Washbourne, assistant Air Force chief of staff for installations, said the Air Force is scheduled to reach its goal of 137 wings by mid-1957.

He said the Air Force by that time will have at best "only minimum facilities" to handle its planes. He added that many of these bases will be substandard, thereby limiting the combat effectiveness of the wings.

He attributed the lag in base construction to a "scanty purse" as a result of economies ordered both by the Defense Department and Congress.

Plays 'Tarzan' On Church Cross During Storm

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (U.P.) — Authorities scheduled mental tests today for a "disillusioned" elevator operator who played "Tarzan" for 90 minutes Wednesday night on a towering church cross during an electrical storm.

The daring young man, Godfrey A. Sherman Jr., 26, of Cambridge, finally ended his caper on the 185-foot-high cross of St. Paul's Catholic Church in Harvard Square under the urging of his brother, Henry, and descended.

Sherman, an amateur actor, at times swung by one hand from the arm of the 15-foot cross. At other times, he munched on a sandwich and an orange and

Steelworkers Study Proposals From 'Big Three'

NEW YORK (U.P.) — The United Steelworkers today studied contract proposals from the steel industry's "Big Three" that could determine whether the nation is drank from a pint of gin. As he did, a thunderstorm rumbled, and lightning bolts split the leaden sky above him.

Before being induced to leave his lofty perch, Sherman heaved the gin bottle to a crowd of some 2,500 below, and tossed a handful of coins to the street.

"Nobody loves me, I'm disillusioned," Sherman mumbled to police and his brother as he was led away.

hit with a costly steel strike this year.

Top trade sources said the besting here was that a peaceful settlement would be reached on a new contract for 650,000 steelworkers before the June 30 strike deadline.

The companies presented their counter offer to the union's contract demands at an abbreviated negotiating session Wednesday.

Reliable sources said the companies' counter offer called for a package increase approaching 15 cents an hour, including a wage hike and a form of guaranteed annual wage.

David J. McDonald, president of the USW, said the union will study the companies' proposals and then meet with its 170-man wage and policy committee on Friday morning, presumably to act on the offer.

Most Churches Using Professional Groups in Money-Raising Tasks

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Hundreds of American churches will reverse the "do-it-yourself" trend this year by hiring professionals to take over the traditional layman's job of raising money.

Professional fund-raising organizations have been playing an increasingly important role in church finance for the last several years. This year, authorities estimate, they will direct upwards of 2,000 church fund drives for a total of more than 300 million dollars.

Most of these will be "capital fund" drives — money for new buildings. Some churches will also seek professional help in meeting their regular operating budgets.

The first professional fund-raising firms were established in the early 20s by former YMCA officials who had worked together during World War I Liberty Loan drives. Today there are more than 400 such firms in the nation. Among those which are prominent in church fund drives are the Wells organization; National Fund Raising Services; Marts & Lundy; Ward, Dreshman & Reinhardt; the American City Bureau; Lawson Associates; and Ketchum Inc.

Their fees for conducting a building fund drive may range from less than $2,500 to more than $10,000, depending on the size of the church and the goal. Most of the large firms work on a flat fee basis. The American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel considers it unethical for a firm to charge a percentage of the sum raised.

For its fee, a church gets the full-time services of a professional director, usually just one man who spends from four to eight weeks planning and supervising the drive. Actual solicitation of pledges is done by members of the church, with the director coaching from the sidelines.

How can a church afford to pay up to $1,000 a week for one expert's services? The answer, according to hundreds of satisfied customers, is that the professionals usually can help a church to raise a far larger sum than it could have raised with entirely local talent.

The files of the professional firms bulge with enthusiastic letters which seem to bear out the claim that a professionally aided canvass will bring in from 50 to 100 per cent more than the home-grown variety.

Despite this record of financial success, many church members remain dubious about the whole idea of bringing in professionals. They suspect professionals of using "high pressure tactics" or other methods that are inconsistent with Christian motivations for giving.

Honeymooner Opens Wrong Door On Plane, Hurtles to His Death

SHELBY, N. C. (AP)—A honeymooning passenger opened the wrong door of an airliner in flight Wednesday night and hurtled 6,500 feet to his death near the cemetery of a country churchyard.

The body of Oren Ase Pruitt, 38, of Charlotte, N. C., dug a hole nearly four feet deep in hard packed earth just a few steps from the cemetery at Zion Church six miles from Shelby.

Pruitt's bride said she became thirsty and asked her husband to get her a drink of water. She said he found the restroom door locked and then tried the plane's side door, thinking it led to another restroom.

Luther Haynes, caretaker of the church, told authorities he heard a "whistling sound" overhead and then saw Pruitt's falling body 30 or 40 yards away.

Haynes said there was "a sort of explosion when it hit."

"I was just walking home from the store and was fixing to go into the house when it happened," the caretaker said. "It looked like a man and I went to see. Then I called the sheriff."

Pruitt and his wife, whom he had married Tuesday, were flying to Asheville, N. C., to visit her parents when the tragic accident happened.

Pruitt was sucked from the Piedmont Airlines plane when the door opened. The fatality was Pied-

Court Upholds Firing of Service, But Clears Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals today upheld the government's 1951 firing of veteran diplomat John Stewart Service. But it cleared his record of findings that there were reasonable doubts of his loyalty.

The unanimous action of a three-judge panel affirmed in all details a decision of Federal District Judge Edward M. Curran on June 30, 1954.

Service, one of the first State Department targets of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), was fired a few hours after the "doubtful loyalty" finding was returned against him by a loyalty review board of the Civil Service Commission in 1951.

Service previously had been cleared by two State Department loyalty boards.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Daffinbacher, D. D.
Written for NEA Service

TODAY the American flag flutters in the breeze over public buildings. Thousands of flags decorate the homes of the nation. Today is Flag Day. We are proud of this symbol of the United States. It represents our freedom, our independence from oppression, our form of self-government, our national recognition of God.

The flag is only a symbol of the people who make up our country. It represents millions of people who have lived and died for God-given freedom.

Today we can proudly revere this symbol because our people are loyal to a heritage of highest values. However, we face a serious danger of losing this heritage unless we are constantly alert to maintain our national and personal ideals. It would be so easy to allow materialism to become supreme.

The cross, too, is a symbol which stands for a power higher than man. This symbol also can be lost in our striving for human supremacy and materialistic devotion to money and things. Both of these symbols stem from God.

They should both remind us constantly that we owe our freedom, our livelihood, our power to think and all the other things which we enjoy in this nation to God.

We must do more than salute or bow our heads when we see the flag or the cross. We must pray to do our share to make the power behind the symbols real to others.

Lily Arnette was waiting for him outside the saloon.

Frank was on his way to Swenson's stable after his horse but he veered in his direction when he saw her. Coming up to Lily he thrust his hand into his jacket pocket. She lifted her face, showing him an amused smile. "You're going to the hotel, Mr. Ude?"

He tipped his hat, offering her his arm to cross the side street. So the Alhambra knew his name. He said, "I'm not staying at the hotel. Still it's a pleasure to walk with you."

Lily smiled softly. She took her small handkerchief and dabbed at the edge of his lips, where Milo Hackett's fist had broken the skin. It was the only acknowledgment she made that he had been through the fight, though his face bore the black and blue marks of Hackett's thumping.

Her eyes were clinging to him closely; this time he knew there was no coquetry. "You knew Ed Rambaut. Were you with him when he died?"

It wasn't a question the way she put it. She knew! The idea of her sharing this knowledge ran through him the way a sharp blade would punish him. Where had she gotten the information? From Norring, or directly from Emmett Cash? Those last few moments of Rambaut's consciousness recrossed his memory. Rambaut had tried to say something — he'd spoken Lily's name with his final breath.

A sudden insight gave Frank the answer to a puzzle. Lily knew where Jonathan Yates was. "I wouldn't know who you're talking about," he said quietly and touched his hat to her. She continued standing in the hotel doorway, watching him cross the main road and strike for Swenson's alley.

He stalked back to the smithy in a perplexed frame of mind. The big Swede was feeding his chestnut grain when he arrived. His manner had altered since Frank left the gelding and he gave him a thorny look.

"Man ain't got no way to judge you, except by the company you keep. There's two saloons in town. One caters to men I ain't ashamed to be seen ridin' beside. You were seen in the other place."

"You're talking about the Alhambra?"

The big Swede sleeved sweat and black grease off his forehead and nodded. "It's become a hole that some day we'll see closed." The fact the Swede said the Alhambra had become a hole was not lost on Frank — it implied it had not formerly been one. Frank remembered the newer lettering on the saloon's front that covered old man Cash's name and he was certain the smith was one man in Cashtown still loyal to the old order. He gently rubbed the spots on his face that were turning blue. "If they keep doing this to strangers you'll soon see the end of the Alhambra," he said flatly. But Swenson wasn't satisfied. He had heard of Emmett being inside the restaurant with Frank, and of their both helping Juan to La Tour's office. "You sure you won't work for a woman?" he asked finally.

"I told it straight. Neither the chestnut nor me will work for women."

"The kind of a woman ought to make a difference to a man."

"It doesn't."

Swenson pulled his chestnut away from the grain bin and gave him over. He spoke with a complete disdain. "You're not the man for this range. I thought at first you might be the answer to Rafter C. Climb on your hunk and cross the hills. You got guts and a gun—and no manners. I don't figure Cashtown'll miss you."

He jogged thoughtfully between the straggly false-fronts feeling the town's unfriendliness around him. The sun's white glare was in his eyes when he first saw Emmett ride from the brush thickets at the edge of the town. He knew the sheriff was looking for Emmett, and perhaps every man in Cashtown would be happy to turn him in. Yet Emmett rode into the road with a reckless flaunting of his danger that Frank admired.

And then came Emmett's laugh, a free, unrestricted sound, filled with camaraderie. "Ridin' the hills, Frank?" Emmett asked.

Frank's answer came spiced with a contempt he wasn't able to control. "Seems like they don't look on you neighborly in Cashtown."

Emmett hunched a shoulder. "That why you got the scars?"

"Partly. A fellow they call Milo Hackett asked too many questions."

"Norrin's man," Emmett murmured with a dull hate to his voice. "The outfit's in the hills waiting for you, Frank. You struck the boys' fancy the way you stayed beside Ed Rambaut."

Then Frank asked a question he had long considered. "Have you got a cattle spread? Or is this a horse outfit?"

There was silence before Emmett answered. Then: "Drift along and you can have your look. We're camped in an old homestead that belongs to Jonathan Yates. Not much of a place, but string along with us and see how soon we pick up better quarters."

Expect Eisenhower to Make Another Report on Health, Campaign Plans

By LYLE C. WILSON
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 WASHINGTON (U.P.) — President Eisenhower probably must tell the American people again whether he feels fit and ready to campaign for a second term. But, this time it may be differently staged.

An off-the-cuff response to a news conference question seems now to be the likely manner in which Mr. Eisenhower will let the people know what is in his mind. He will be asked about his political plans, the next time he faces a news conference.

An elaborate television report on his own well being was arranged last February for the President to reveal that he felt sufficiently recovered from a heart attack to take on four more White House years.

his fitness for another term. His attending physicians are top flight men, however, and they are committed to the President's recovery in terms of weeks instead of months. Time will tell about that.

Republican leaders and Mr. Eisenhower's White House associates are as confident in private as in public that the President will run again. They do not believe that a successful bout with the surgeons will lessen his vote appeal. They argue that his physical reaction to the ordeal of surgery will be the best possible campaign proof that the Eisenhower heart is ticking on schedule.

4-H News

The Grovettes 4-H club held its meeting Monday, June 11. The first project for the summer is to make a scarf and skirt.

It was agreed that each member will give the 4-H pledge in answer to roll call each meeting.

Refreshments were served to the following members: Patty Devine, Connie Jo Higgins, Wilma McGowan, Lois Ann Reynolds, Patsy Johnson, and the leader, Mrs. Beulah Reynolds, Mrs. Myrtle Hall, assistant leader, and Brenda Gogue, new member.

The next meeting will be June 18.

Often Bench Victims

Heart attacks are killers. When they do not kill they often bench their victims. The most enthusiastic Ike-men were willing back there in the autumn of 1955 to believe that Mr. Eisenhower was lost to the Republican party. The popular belief also was that Mr. Eisenhower could not run again.

A full dress response to that widespread doubt was essential and it was made by the President in his television appearance of Feb. 29. Surgery is something else again. A successful operation may leave the patient as strong or even physically in better condition than before. Mr. Eisenhower's attending doctors evidently consider their work to have been successful and that the President will gain physically rather than lose by reason of it.

A more informal assurance of his willingness to run again is, therefore, indicated—assuming, of course, that Mr. Eisenhower's excellent recovery continues. Just when the President next will submit himself to news questions is not known. Harvard Medical School Professor David D. Rutstein said Tuesday in Cambridge that the forecast six-week period of recovery from surgery was the absolute minimum and too optimistic. Might take two or three months, Dr. Rutstein said.

Would Raise Doubts

A three-month convalescence from successful abdominal surgery surely would raise some serious doubts about the President's comeback powers and perhaps, about

Investigate Fire, Explosion at Herrin Restaurant

HERRIN, Ill. (U.P.)—State and city fire officials are investigating a small explosion and fire at Hampton's restaurant here.

The fire broke out about 2:30 a. m. Wednesday and State Deputy Fire Marshal Paul Deason and Herrin Fire Chief Carl Mayers believe it was caused by some sort of explosive liquid.

They said the liquid apparently was thrown through a window into a washroom where it exploded, damaging fixtures and starting the blaze.

The fire damage was confined to the washroom and the fire did not spread to the main part of the building.

To Select Officers For Carrier Mills Youth Center
 The Uzzle building at Carrier Mills was turned over to the Carrier Mills Youth Center this week, and a meeting is planned to be held there Friday at 7 p. m. when the youth will complete their governing organization. Adult officers have already been elected with Mrs. Harold Berns as president.

This Center will be used by youth of Carrier Mills and Stonefort. Mrs. Berns emphasized. Youth from seventh and eighth grades through high school up to 20 years, are welcome and urged to attend.

Mrs. Harvey Chaney is the person to whom Youth Center contributions of money should be made. Clubs, lodges, churches and individuals who have funds to contribute are asked to get them to her as soon as possible.

The need for equipment is also great. Divans, chairs, floor lamps, fans, and ping pong tables are needed. Mrs. Berns will pick up any that you have to offer. She requests that phone calls to 2681 be placed after 4 p. m. Any assistance will be greatly appreciated by the youth of Carrier Mills.

Replace Trees at SIU Threatened With Elm Disease
 CARBONDALE, Ill.—A gradual transformation of the scenery is taking place on the campus of Southern Illinois university as a means of replacing—and averting—losses from a threatening elm disease.

Phloem neuphrosis, one of numerous plagues which is riddling the population of elms all over Illinois, has cost SIU only nine trees so far, but landscape planners are taking no chances. Losses and new plantings are being replaced with hackberry trees and other varieties. Hackberry closely resembles the elm.

John Loneragan, landscape architect for SIU, says afflicted trees are cut down as soon as the disease is detected by a "root test." Although elms are not numerous on the "old" campus, the site of major new building activity near the heavily wooded area south of the campus, is well represented by elm varieties.

Loneragan says the disease became established during recent drought years. An upturn in the elm's resistance to attack has been noticed in the past year.

Losses in other areas of Carbondale are being offset mostly by plantings of pin oak, a fast-growing tree with a long life.

William Marberry, assistant professor of Botany at SIU, said the school's landscaping program has never emphasized the planting of any one particular tree. "Elm diseases won't hurt us as they have communities in northern Illinois," he said.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Bureau of Land Management, Washington 25, D. C. Notice is hereby given that lands known to contain coal in commercial quantities, comprising 30 acres are offered for coal lease by sealed bids at a minimum bid of $5 an acre to the qualified bidder of the highest cash amount as a bonus for the privilege of leasing under section 2 of the Act of February 25, 1920 (41 Stat. 438), as amended, and the Act of August 7, 1947 (61 Stat. 913). All bids must be submitted to the Acting Manager, Eastern States Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Washington 25, D. C. on or before 1:00 p. m., E.S.T., June 28, 1956. Each bidder must submit with his bid one-fifth of the amount bid by him in cash or by certified check, cashier's check, or money order made payable to the Bureau of Land Management and file evidence of his qualifications to receive a lease as prescribed in 43 CFR 193.11(a) (2) and (3), if a current showing in that regard has not been filed. The envelopes must be plainly marked that they are not to be opened before the hour and date set out herein and must show that the bid is for coal lease. No bid received after the time specified herein for receiving bids will be considered. Bidders are warned against committing any act of intimidation, combination or unfair management to hinder or prevent bidding at the sale in violation of section 1860, Title 18, United States Code. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Lands to be leased are located approximately 10 miles southeast of Harrisburg, in Saline County, Illinois and described as N¹/₄ SE¹/₄ SE¹/₄ sec. 22, T. 10 S., R. 7 E., 3rd P.M. Terms: a royalty of 15 cents a ton of 2000 lbs. mine run; a minimum annual production to a royalty value of $1 an acre, beginning with the fourth year of the lease; a bond in the sum of $1000; a minimum expenditure of $1000 on or for the benefit of the land listed of which sum not less than one-third shall be expended during each of the first three years of the lease unless sooner expended. There will be made a part of the lease if and when issued, the provisions set out in Form 4-216 and other special terms and conditions, copies of which may be obtained from Acting Manager, Eastern States Land Office, Bureau of Land Management, Washington 25, D.C. Prior to the issuance of a lease on Standard coal lease Form 4-696, the successful bidder must pay the remainder of his bonus bid, rental of 25 cents an acre for the first lease year and the cost of publication of this notice of lease offer. He must execute and file lease forms and stipulations (5 copies each) and a satisfactory bond in the amount specified above. Deposits of other bidders will be returned upon completion of the sale. Charles P. Mead, Acting Manager. 279—

Robin Roberts Loses His Fourth Straight as Braves Beat Philadelphia, 8 to 6

By United Press
Robin Roberts is being belted around like a batting practice pitcher these days but don't bet too much that he'll fail to make 20 victories for the seventh straight season.
Roberts was knocked out of the box in the fourth inning Wednesday night when the Milwaukee Braves beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 8-6. The loss was Robin's fourth straight and left him with a 5-8 season's record.
An ordinary pitcher wouldn't have much chance of reaching the 20-mark if he were saddled with that record on this date. But Roberts is no ordinary pitcher and he's won 20 in past seasons when his record wasn't much better on June 14 than it is now.
In 1954, for example, he was only 7-7 on June 14, yet finished with a 23-15 record. And, in 1952, he was only 7-5 on June 14 but closed with a 21-2 burst for a season record of 28-7. In 1950 he had eight victories, in 1951 and 1955 he had nine and in 1953 had posted 10 victories—each time going on, of course, to win 20 or more.

Tagged for Nine Hits
In the meantime, however, it's mighty frustrating for the last-place Phillies to see their $50,000-a-year pitcher fail to win in four tries since May 24. He was tagged for nine hits and six earned runs in 3 1-3 innings Wednesday night to send his earned run average soaring to 5.04.
Roberts held the Braves to a single run through the first three frames but they broke loose from a 13-game hitting slump en masse in the fourth with a barrage that included a three-run homer by Del Crandall, a two-run homer by Ed Matthews and triples by Danny O'Connell and Johnny Logan. O'Connell also connected for two other triples to tie the single game record held by 15 players.
Five unearned runs enabled the Chicago Cubs to beat the New York Giants, 6-5, in the other National league game. Bob Rush won his sixth game for the Cubs, still streaking with 10 wins in 13 games. Willie Mays drove in three runs with two homers for the Giants.

In the American league, the Chicago White Sox finally beat the New York Yankees after six straight losses when Ron Northey and Luis Aparicio drove in three runs each in a 7-5 triumph. Larry Doby also contributed his first homer of the year to the White Sox' 10-hit attack that routed Bob Turley and brought veteran Howie Pollet his third win.
Billy Loes, acquired last month from the Brooklyn Dodgers, made a sensational six-inning debut for the Baltimore Orioles but it went for naught when the Detroit Tigers beat relief pitcher George Zuver-ink, 2-0, on a ninth-inning homer by Charley Maxwell. Paul Foytack and Steve Gromek collaborated in the shutout for the Tigers.

Loes, an eccentric right-hander with brilliant stuff, yielded only one hit and one walk in six innings and struck out five Tigers. He was taken out by Manager Paul Richards because of the 98-degree temperature in Baltimore.
The Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox battled three hours and 52 minutes in 97-degree heat to an 11-inning rain-halted 8-8 tie. The deadlock had existed since the fourth inning when the Indians scored four runs with the aid of a three-run homer by Vic Wertz. Wertz also homered in the first and drove in five runs.

Sports Briefs

BROOKLYN, N. Y.—Rookie left-hander Chuck Templeton will remain with St. Paul of the American Association today on option from the parent Brooklyn Dodgers. The Dodgers played the Saints in an exhibition game Wednesday night before leaving for home. Templeton's transfer leaves the Brooks with 24 players, one short of the limit.

CHICAGO—The Chicago Cubs have signed three high school stars to farm contracts. Pete Matlachione of Detroit has been signed by Des Moines in the Western league. Ernest Degross of Salkum, Wash., was signed for 1957 with Ponca City, Okla., in the Sooner State league and James Newman of Monroe, N. C. goes to Paris, Ill., in the Midwest league.

NEW YORK—Most of the expected nine starters in Saturday's $100,000 added Belmont Stakes took to the track today for final blowouts.
The Florida-bred Needles, winner of the Kentucky Derby, and Calumet Farm's Fabius, winner of the Preakness, generally are being considered as the ones to beat in the mile and one-half Belmont, the third jewel in the Triple Crown classic. But Ricci Tavi, conqueror of Fabius in the Leonard Richards Stakes, rapidly is picking up backers.

WASHINGTON—Eldred (Bud) Byerly, who formerly saw service with the Cincinnati Redlegs and the St. Louis Cardinals, was back in the major leagues today—with the Washington Senators.
The 35-year-old righthander, who has become a relief specialist in the American Association in recent years with the Minneapolis Millers and the Louisville Colonels, replaced Truman Clevenger, who was sent down to Louisville.

BRISTOL, England—Althea Gibson of New York, with nine straight European titles safely stowed away, moved along toward her 10th today in the West of England Lawn Tennis Championships.
Miss Gibson, already being listed as the favorite for the Wimbledon championships, advanced to the quarter-finals in women's singles play by downing Ann Hayday of England, 6-3, 6-4, Wednesday.

Carroll Wins Varsity Track Letter at Northwestern University

Charles Carroll, of Harrisburg, was one of 14 athletes who won varsity track letters at Northwestern University this spring.
Carroll, a former state 100-yard dash champion at Harrisburg Township high school, was Northwestern's top point-getter, after an injury sidelined Jim Golliday. Carroll won both the 100- and 220-yard dashes in two outdoor dual meets and finished second in the century in the Big Ten championships.

Middlecoff and Hogan Favored in National Open

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—The country's best shot makers tee off today for the first round of the National Open Golf Tournament with Ben Hogan and Cary Middlecoff, two of the six former champions in the field, listed as favorites.
The field of 160 starts play at 8 a. m. EDT, with threesomes teeing off at eight minute intervals.
Hogan, seeking an unprecedented fifth victory, and Middlecoff were quoted at 3-1.
Right back of them came Sam Snead, four times runner-up in the open but never a winner, at 4-1 and Gene Littler, the California pro who appears to be at the top of his game, at 5-1. Masters champion Jackie Burke was held at 6-1.
Score Estimates Vary
Estimates of the score it would take to win ranged from even par 280 for the four rounds to 287. Most of the golfers agreed that the 6,902-yard sun-baked Oak Hill Country Club layout was one of the fairest tests of golf on which the open ever has been played.
But with the hot weather the greens became lightning fast and a lot of golfers anticipated putting trouble. However, they liked the short cut rough and the way they could recover from wild tee shots.
Middlecoff, playing "very well" thought 281 would win it. Hogan predicted it might take 280. Burke said he would settle for 284.

Playoffs Are Common
In the past 54 open tournaments, there have been 19 playoffs for the crown, the last time last year when unheralded Jack Fleck of Davenport, Iowa, beat Hogan at San Francisco. Fleck hasn't won anything since and his chances are not regarded too highly here as he was listed at 20-1.

KEPT BUSY—RUSHING. Probably the busiest Southern Illinois University athlete is Marion Rushing, sophomore from Pinckneyville, who examines the shoes for his three major sports — track, basketball, and football. Rushing this week was voted by varsity award winners as SIU's most valuable athlete—the first sophomore ever to receive the honor. Rushing plays forward in basketball, throws the javelin in track, and plays almost all the line positions in football. An industrial education major, Rushing spends most of his "spare time" hunting and fishing.

Cubs, Karnes', Sugar Creeks and Pickford's Win Kiwanis Games

By David Nelson
The Cubs defeated the Reds, 20-10; Karnes' Sugar Creeks downed Gibbons' team 19-5, and Pickford's Tigers pounded Dairy Brand, 20-11, in Kiwanis league games played Wednesday.
The Cubs tallied 20 runs on seven hits, 14 bases on balls, and one error, as they defeated the Reds. The winners scored runs in each inning: six in the first, one in the second, five in the third, three in the fourth, and five in the fifth. The losing Reds scored 10 times on six hits, five of which were home runs, five walks and two misplays. Their runs came three in the first, four in the third and three in the fifth.
Watson led the Cubs at bat with two home runs, a double and a single, while Taylor, Lucas and Riegel singled once each. For the Reds at the plate Morse and Questelle homered twice each. Bebout had a home run and Vinson singled. Hefner was the winning pitcher and Morse and Questelle hurled for the losers.

Karnes' Sugar Creeks got off to an early start over Gibbons', scoring 15 runs in the first inning. The winners coasted from there, picking up one run in the third and three in the fourth on a total of 14 hits, nine walks and three errors. Gibbons' scored their five runs in the third on seven bases on balls, and their only hit came in the fourth.
For the winners on offense Karnes had two home runs and a triple, Wiley homered twice, Wilson and Muge had a homer and single each, Warmelink singled twice, Wallesen and Fields had a triple apiece, and Cushist doubled.

MINNESOTA and Arizona Play For NCAA Title

OMAHA—The 1956 national collegiate baseball champion will be crowned tonight.
Arizona postponed the coronation Wednesday night by handing previously unbeaten Minnesota a 10-4 thrashing in the double elimination NCAA college world series here.
Tonight it will be do or die. Ernie Oosterveen will probably pitch for Arizona and Jerry Thomas is slated to do the mound work for the Gophers. Thomas limited the Wildcats to three hits in the second round Sunday when Minnesota won, 3-1.
The Wildcats' big hurler, Carl Thomas, who did the pitching Wednesday night, was charged with the loss Sunday. While earning Wednesday night's victory he set down 15 of the Gophers on strikes to equal the series record.
Arizona, which had not revealed much power at the plate before Wednesday night, hauled out the big guns and blasted a trio of Minnesota pitchers for 14 hits, including five extra base blows.
Thomas was not only effective on the mound but he also was a star at the plate. The stout pitcher socked a triple, a double and a single in three appearances. Teammate Tom McGinnis hit a homer and a pair of singles in four trips.

Compensation Given For Emotional Shock

BUFFALO, N. Y.—An unusual ruling in workmen's compensation court here designated that emotional shock suffered at work was compensable.
Referee John C. Carogana made the ruling in the case of William Lyman, 35, a grain mill worker.
Lyman claimed he and another worker became emotionally upset when a co-worker was killed accidentally.
The death victim suffocated after he fell from a bos'n's chair while being lowered into a bin at the mill. He landed in a grain pile about 35 feet below.
Lyman said that when he was told of the accident he became so upset that he fell to his knees and "broke out crying." He required hospital care for shock.
Carogana ruled that the incident constituted an accident, the same as when someone is injured because of "horseplay" on a job.

Hiccups Stop After Eight Years

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A frail but happy Jack O'Leary is living a normal life today all because an eight-year siege of hiccups appears to be over.

"It's like a miracle," O'Leary said. "It's wonderful, no more hiccuping every second . . . the house is so quiet."

Health Dep't Closes House Washrooms

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The State Health Department today ordered remodeled wash rooms in the Illinois House chambers closed as a possible source of contamination of the Capitol water supply.

State Health Director Dr. Roland R. Cross said contractors who remodeled the wash rooms failed to install "vacuum traps" in some of the plumbing fixtures.

Absence of the traps, he told Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter in a letter, could result in contamination of the water supply for the entire statehouse.

Carpenter is custodian of state buildings. The legislative chambers are being remodeled to accommodate the larger membership created by reapportionment.

James M. Walsh, building superintendent under Carpenter, said the plumbing work in the chambers was done by the Engel Plumbing Co., Springfield.

He said he did not know whether the vacuum traps were called for in the architect's specifications for the plumbing job.

Walsh said Engel told him he did not believe the traps were necessary because there is an 18-inch space between the water line in the fixtures and the place where the valves would fit.

Train Crashes In France; at Least 9 Killed

FISMES, France (AP)—The Paris-Luxembourg express train with American tourists aboard crashed off the rails in the heart of France's famed champagne country today.

City officials said at least 9 persons were killed, 36 were seriously injured and 100 slightly injured. Some passengers still were trapped in the overturned cars. It was not known if any Americans were included in these figures. Both Fismes and state railway officials said they feared the death toll would go higher.

The cars of the express were derailed near this town 16 miles from the cathedral city of Rheims, capital of France's champagne district.

Eisenhower Asks Liberation Of E. Germany

President Has 10-Minute Talk With Adenauer

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower appealed for the "liberation" of East Germany from Communist rule today in a 10-minute hospital room conference with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

Mr. Eisenhower, resuming an active role in the direction of free world diplomacy, said action is needed "to promote the liberation of 17 million Germans under Communist rule" and to bring about the "reunification" of East and West Germany.

Refreshed by the best night's sleep he has had since his emergency operation Saturday to relieve an intestinal block, Mr. Eisenhower sat up in a chair for his talk with Adenauer, his first hospital visitor outside of family and staff aides.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, who sat in on the meeting, reported that the President personally brought up the reunification subject in his talk with the 80-year-old German leader.

Such Excellent Shape The meeting was held in the President's luxurious suite in Ward 8 of Walter Reed Army Medical Center.

Adenauer told reporters he was "very happy" to have had the opportunity of talking to the President "and to have seen him in such excellent shape."

Adenauer said he would not have believed it possible for the President so soon after the major surgery to "look that way, talk that way, and participate so vividly in a conversation."

"I have asked the doctor to explain this miracle, and he has explained it is a healthy, strong organism that helps one overcome an obstacle of this kind," Adenauer said.

Dulles, who had not seen the President since his operation five days ago, said Mr. Eisenhower appeared in "fine spirits" and that his recovery seemed to be "almost miraculous."

Adenauer and Dulles were in the President's room for 10 minutes. Mrs. Eisenhower and a State Department interpreter also were present.

Dulles said the chancellor and the President had "a very good talk" on their own personal relations and the relations between the German and American people.

Best Night's Sleep Adenauer and Dulles reported on the meeting to newsmen outside the hospital. Hundreds of hospital patients, nurses, doctors and civilian personnel watched.

The meeting was a milestone in Mr. Eisenhower's continuing recovery from his operation. An 8:10 a. m. EDT medical bulletin said Mr. Eisenhower had his best night's sleep Wednesday since his surgery and was looking forward to his morning conference.

The irksome drainage tube was left out of his nose all night. There also were no "ill effects" from the half cup of clear broth he sipped Wednesday afternoon.

Senate Passes Construction Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has passed a $872,186,000 appropriation bill that would finance construction of water and power projects throughout the country during the year starting July 1.

The bill now goes to a conference committee for adjustment of differences with the House. The Senate added 81 million dollars to House approved amounts.

The Senate approved the bill

Wednesday without change from allocations voted last Friday by the Senate Appropriations Committee.

The bill includes $642,436,000 for flood control and navigation projects of the Army Engineers.
